GERMANY'S DUPLICITY IS PARTIALLY REVEALED

Berlin Government in Planning Submarine Warfare Proposed Alliance With Mexico and Japan to Fight United States in Case of Break in Relations

ACTIVE FOR MONTHS

Many Heretofore Strange Circumstances Are Clarified in the Light of Astounding Evidence of Treachery

PARTITION OF UNITED STATES

Mexico for Her Share Was to Have New Mexico, Texas, and Arizona---Carranza Government Urged to Invite Aid of Japan in Project Against U. S.---Instructions to German Ambassador in Mexico City Transmitted Through Count Von Bernstorff, Who Was Secured Safe Passage Home By American Influence.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 28. — The Associated Press is enabled to reveal that Germany, in planning unrestricted submarine warfare and counting its consequences, proposed an alliance with Mexico and Japan to make war on the United States, if this country should not remain neutral. Japan, through Mexican mediation, was to be urged to abandon her allies and join in the attack on the United States.

Mexico, for her reward, was to receive general financial support from Germany, reconquer Texas, New Mexico and Arizona—lost provinces—and share in the victorious peace terms Germany contemplated.

Details were left to German Minister Von Eckhardt in Mexico City, who by instructions signed by German Foreign Minister Zimmermann, at Berlin, January 19, 1917, was directed to propose the alliance with Mexico to General Carranza and suggests that Mexico seek to bring Japan into the plot. These instructions were transmitted to Von Eckhardt through Count Von Bernstorff, former ambassador here, now on his way home to Germany, under a safe conduct obtained from his enemies by the country against which he was plotting war.

Germany pictured to Mexico, by broad intimation, England and the entente allies defeated; Germany and her allies triumphant and in world domination by the instrument of unrestricted submarine warfare.

A copy of Zimmermann's instructions to Von Eckhardt, sent through Von Bernstorff, is in possession of the United States government. It is as follows:

Proposal to Mexico.

"Berlin, January 19, 1917.

"On the first of February we intend to begin submarine warfare unrestricted. In spite of this, it is our intention to endeavor to keep neutral the United States of America.

"If this attempt is not successful, we propose an alliance on the following basis with Mexico: That we shall make war together and together make peace. We shall give general financial support and it is understood that Mexico is to reconquer the lost territory in New Mexico, Texas and Arizona. The details are left to you for settlement.

"You are instructed to inform the president of Mexico of the above in the greatest confidence as soon as it is certain that there will be an outbreak of war with the United States and suggest that the president of Mexico, on his own initiative, should communicate with Japan suggesting adherence at once to this plan: at the same time, offer to mediate between Germany and Japan.

"Please call to the attention of the president of Mexico that the employment of ruthless submarine warfare now promises to compel England to make peace in a few months.

(Signed) "Zimmermann."

U. S. Officials Have Copy.

This document has been in the hands of the government since President Wilson broke off diplomatic relations with Germany. It has been kept secret, while the President has been asking congress for full authority to deal with Germany and while congress has been debating. It was in the President's hands while Chancellor Von Bethmann Hollweg was declaring that the United States had placed an interpretation on the submarine declaration "never insisted by Germany" and that Germany had promoted and honored friendly relations with the United States as "as an heirloom from Frederick the Great."

Why We Broke Relations.

Of itself if there were no other, it is considered a sufficient answer to the German chancellor's plaint that the United States "brusquely" broke off relations without giving "authentic" reasons for its action.

The document supplies the missing link to many separate chains of circumstances which until now have seemed to lead to no definite point. It sheds new light on the frequent but reported but indefinable movements of the Mexican government to couple the situation with the friction between the United States and Japan. It adds another chapter to the celebrated report of Jules Cambon, French ambassador in Berlin before the war, of Germany's world wide plans for stirring strife on every continent where they might aid her in the struggl for world domination which he dreamed was close at hand. It add a climax to the operations of Count Von Bernstorff and the German Embassy in this country, which have been colored with passport fraud charges, of dynamite plots and intrigue, the fullest extent of which has never been published.

It gives new credence to persistent reports of submarine bases on Mexican territory, in the Gulf of Mexico; it takes cognizance of a fact long recognized by American army chiefs, that if Japan ever undertook to invade the United States it probably would be through Mexico over the border and into the Mississippi valley, to split the country in two. It recalls that Count Von Bernstorff when handed his passports was very reluctant to return to Germany, but expressed a preference for asylum in Cuba. It gives a new explanation to the repeated arrests on the border of men charged by American military authorities with being German intelligence agents.

Last of all it seems to show a connection with General Carranza's recent proposal to neutrals that exports of foods and munitions to the entente allies be cut off, and an intimation that he might stop the supply of oil, so vital to the British navy, which is exported from the Tampico fields.

What congress will do, and how members of congress who openly have sympathized with Germany in their opposition to clothing the President with full authority to protect American rights will regard the revelation of Germany's machinations to attack the United States is the subject of tonight's keenest interest. Such a proposal as Germany instructed her minister to make to Mexico borders on an act of war if, actually, it is not one.

No doubt exists here now that the persistent reports during the last two years of the operations of German agents not alone in Mexico, but all through Central America and the West Indies are based on fact. There is no doubt whatever that the proposed alliance with Mexico was known to high Mexican officials who are distinguished for their anti-Americanism. Among them are Rafael Zubaran, Carranza's minister to Germany, and Luis Cabrera, Carranza's minister of finance.

It is apparent that the proposal had taken definite form when Zuburan returned to Mexico City from Berlin recently. His return from his foreign post was covered by the fact that Carranza had called in many of his diplomats for "conferences." Some time before that Cabrera, while still at Atlantic City, in the conferences of the American-Mexican joint commission, had suggested in a guarded way to a member of the American section that he regretted that the commission had not succeeded fully in settling the difficulties between Mexico and the United States, for, he said, he had hoped it might continue its work and make peace for the world.

When pressed for some details of how the commission could restore world peace, Cabrera suggested that the American republics control the destiny of the war by controlling a large part of its supplies. Mexico, he intimataed, might do her part by cutting off exports of oil. The American commissioners dismissed his ideas as visionary.

Almost coincident with Zubaran's return from Germany, Cabrera returned from Mexico city, open in his expressions of anti Americanism. Zubaran, before being sent abroad, had represented General Carranza here while the Niagara mediation conferences were proceeding and was no less avowedly anti-American than Cabrera.

Meanwhile, Baron Von Schoen, secretary of the German embassy here, was transferred to the legation in Mexico City. No explanation could be obtained of the reasons for his transfer, and such investigation as was possible failed to develop why a secretary to the United States should be sent to the German legation in Mexico. Baron Von Schoen's association with the moves, if any at all, does not appear. The only outward indication that he might have been connected with them is found in the fact that he recently had been detached from the German embassy in Tokio and was well acquainted with the Japanese Minister in Mexico City.

Carranza's peace proposal was openly pronounced an evidence of German influence in Mexico by officials here, who declared it was intended only to embarrass the United States. Then apparently, some influences showed their effect on the course of the Mexican government and on February 25, Cabrera, the minister of finance, issued a statement describing "the amazement" of the Mexican government that the American newspapers should have interpreted General Carranza's proposal to cut off exports of munitions as a suggestion that he might cut off shipments of British oil. They were, Cabrera declared, "entirely groundless" and that feature of the situation ended. This was an intimation that Germany's astounding proposal that Japan turn traitor to her allies had been answered by Tokio.

Count Von Bernstorff's connection with the plot, further than serving as the channel of communication, is intensified by the fact that the German embassy here was not merely the medium of delivering a message in this instance, but was really a sort of headquarters for all the German missions in Central and South America.

The German naval attaché, Captain Boy-Ed, and the military attache Captain Von Papen, whose recall was forced by the state department because of their military activities in this country, also were accredited to Mexico, and between the outbreak of the war and their departure from this country made at least one visit there.

For months many naval officers here have believed that the mysterious German raiders of the South Atlantic must have found a base somewhere on the Mexican coast, and that such a base could not be maintained without the knowledge and consent of Mexican officials. Last November the British charge at Mexico City presented to the Carranza foreign office a notification that if it was discovered that Mexican neutrality thus had been violated, the allies would take "drastic measures," to prevent a continuance of that situation.

In a note almost insolent in tone, Foreign Minister Aguilar replied to the charge that, in effect, it was the business of the allies to keep German submarines out of western waters, and that if they were not kept out, Mexico would adopt whatever course the circumstances might commend.

To German influences also have been attributed in some quarters the vigorous steps taken by the de facto finance minister to force loans from the Banco Nacional and the Bank of London and Mexico, owned by French and British capital. The institutions were closed by the Mexican officials and some of their officers imprisoned and held for weeks despite protests by France, Great Britain and the United States.

Reports of German machine guns and German gunners in the Carranza army also have been persistent, although the relative importance of that to the proposed alliance is not fully established. It is recalled tonight too, that last November, when the Mexican-American joint commission was making a futile effort to adjust the difficulties between the two countries the Austro-Hungarian ambassador at Mexico City, Count Kalman Kama Votkanya, made a trip to the United States on what he described as a "secret mission."

A suggestion interpreted by some officials as an indication that Gemany might have made approaches to Mexico at that time was made by Cabrera in an address at Philadelphia on November 10.

"The foes of the United States will certainly assume to be friends of Mexico," said Mr. Cabrera, "and will try to take advantage of any sort of resentment Mexico may have against the United States. Mexico, nevertheless understands that in case of a conflict between the United States and any other nation outside America, her attitude must be one of continental solidarity.

It has been an open secret that department of justice agents in their investigations of plots to violate American neutrality by setting on foot armed expeditions in Mexico more than once have uncovered what appeared to be the trails of the German secret service. A few days ago Fred Kaiser, suspected of being a German agent, was arrested at Nogales on charges brought under the neutrality statutes, department of justice agents declaring he had attempted to obtain military information on the American side of the border and had cultivated the society of American army officers with an apparent intention of promoting these efforts.

Last July, when W. H. Schweibz, who claimed to be a former German army officer, escaped into Mexico at Nogales after arrest on similar charges, the deputy marshal who tried to follow him was stopped by Mexican authorities.

The full extent of the evidence of Germany's plotting against the United States, gathered by the American secret service, may become known only according to the course of the future relations between the two countries. It is known that much evidence of the operations of the German embassy and persons who are responsible to it never have been permitted to come out because officials prefer to guard against inflaming the public mind in the tense situation with Germany. The public amazement which a full exposition of the evidence in the hands of the government would cause cannot be over-estimated.

Only today the council of national defense, created by act of congress, issued an appeal to all Americans to show every consideration for aliens in this country.

"We call upon all citizens," said the appeal, "if untoward events should come upon us, to present to these aliens, many of whom tomorrow will be Americans, an attitude of neither suspicion nor aggressiveness. We urge upon all Americans to meet these millions of foreign born with unchanged manner and with unprejudiced minds."

Those participating in it were Premier Briand of France, General Lyautey, the French minister of war; General Robert G. HEATED DEBATE OVER BROWN LITERACY TEST

WOULD RESTRAIN MANY FOREIGNERS FROM VOTING IN STATE

Albany, Feb. 28.—The hearing on Senator Elon R. Brown's proposal for a literary test for voters, in the senate chamber today, resolved itself into a joint debate between Senator Brown and Louis Marshall, an attorney of New York. The hearing sparkled with quick wit and brilliant passages of repartee, to the delight of the large crowd in attendance.

Among the opponents of the measure, in addition to Mr. Marshall were Victor Ridder of the New York Staats Zeitung; Max Eckman, representing the Independent Order of Brith Abraham; Morris Rubenstein of the Fraternal Order of Lions; Frank L. Fulgona, editor of an Italian newspaper; Jacob Rankin, representing the United Hebrew Trades and William Lieberman of the National German-American Alliance. Senator Brown and Charles H. Young of Westchester county were the only speakers in behalf of the proposal.

Voicing the objections of virtually all the opponents, Mr. Marshall argued that the proposed test was wrong in principle and that its incorporation into the organic law of the state would open up innumerable difficulties. "Why," he asked, "should we put into the constitution the Anglo-Saxon hyphen?" He declared that the foreign born citizens were able by reading the newspapers published in their own languages to keep abreast of the times and to obtain information of the problems of government and of American institutions and ideals.

Senator Brown said that the country would be confronted after the end of the war with an influx of millions of Europeans fleeing from the horrors of that conflict. "These people," he said, "ought not to perform the duties of citizenship as intellectual cripples. Such a test as is proposed would be a step in the right direction as it offers citizenship as a reward of ambition and endeavor."

He read the constitutional voting qualifications of several states where a literacy test is imposed on voters, including California, Connecticut, Delaware, Maine, Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Washington.

PROHIBITION FORCES WIN DOUBLE VICTORY

HOUSE PASSES DISTRICT BILL; REED MEASURE REPORTED

Washington,. D. C., Feb. 28. — Prohibition won a double victory in congress when the house passed by a vote of 273 to 137 the senate bill to make the national capital dry and senate and house conferees on the postal appropriation bill unexpectedly announced an agreement under which the Reed "bone dry" amendment is virtually assured of enactment.

Hope of agreeing on the postal supply measure had been abandoned by the conferees who last night submitted a resolution to continue existing postal appropriations for another year. Tonight, however, they got together on a report which includes the Reed amendment prohibiting shipment of liquor into prohibition states and which they expect to present in both houses tomorrow or Friday. The leaders thought tonight there was no doubt of its acceptance in senate and house. They are taking it for granted, too, that President Wilson will approve both that and the District of Columbia prohibition bill.

The District bill, which would become effective Nov. 1, was brought to a vote after a stubborn opposition had delayed for several hours the final roll call which the leaders knew would mean passage.

The filibusterers made their last stand on an amendment that would have given the people of the District a referendum on the proposal and would have put into the measure a provision prohibiting importation of liquor for personal use. This was voted down, 171 to 232. Various other amendments were rejected.

Chairman Henry of the state rules committee led the fight for the "wets." He protested that undue haste should not be exercised in perfecting such an important measure and Representative Harrison of the rules committee replied:

"We are willing to sit here with you gentlemen until the fourth of March, if necessary, in order to perfect this bill."

While the voting was in progress in the house, William J. Bryan walked into the press gallery.

"I was in on the killing," he said, after the final vote. "Just say for me that I said 'D-lighted.'"

REPUBLICANS BACK WILSON

Michigan Delegation Solid Behind Wilson in Foreign Crisis.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 28.—Michigan's entire Republican congressional delegation voted today to support the armed neutrality bill, not to obstruct defense legislation and to co-operate in every way with President Wilson in the international crisis. The delegation had been called together by Senator William Alden Smith.

This action furnished the first evidence of changing Republican sentiment toward the President's course in the international crisis and was regarded particularly significant in view of the fact that Senator Smith, a member of the foreign relations committee, was one of those who did not favor the armed neutrality bill as it was agreed to in the committee yesterday. The senator said today that while he thought the bill might be improved, he was for it now that the bill had been presented.

ANOTHER AMERICAN WAS LACONIA VICTIM

WILLIAM EVA, A CALIFORNIAN, WENT DOWN WITH SHIP

New York, Feb. 28.—William Eva, who was lost when the steamship Laconia was torpedoed off the Irish coast Sunday night, was an American citizen, according to an announcement by Cunard line officials tonight. He was 74 years old and lived in California where he was interested in mining properties.

Until today it had been supposed that Mrs. Mary E. Hoy and her daughter, Miss Elizabeth Hoy of Chicago, were the only victims among the Laconia's passengers who were American citizens. Eva, it developed, had sailed on an emergency passport issued by the British consul here and it had been assumed that he was a British subject. A cable message from the Liverpool office of the Cunard line inquiring as to whether he came from Canada was received here and officials then learned for the first time, they said, that he had come here from Big Pine, Cal.

It was disclosed that Eva had applied for the emergency passport from the British consul after an American passport on which he had traveled to England a year ago had been cancelled by the state department at Washington because he was unable to furnish the department with a birth certificate.

When the Laconia sailed from here Eva's name appeared on the passenger list as from Montreal. He had obtained the passport for the Holland-American liner Ryndam and when that vessel returned here after going part of the way across the Atlantic, he was transferred to the Laconia.

Officials of the Cunard line said they had learned that Eva was born in England but that he was brought to this country by his parents when he was four years old and that his father became a naturalized citizen before the boy became of age.

Eva was said to be on his way to join his wife who is in Cornwall.

ENLIST CHILDREN TO LOWER LIVING COST

BY RAISING VEGETABLES ON NON-PRODUCTIVE SOIL

Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 28. — The enlistment of school children of the United States in efforts to defeat the high cost of living by the greater production of vegetables in school gardens was considered today by the School Garden association of America. It met as a part of the annual convention of the superintendency division of the National Education association. Plans were made by which agriculturalists connected with city schools will be permitted to use vacant lots for such cultivation.

Similar work had been undertaken in many cities, but in view of the present prices and the increased domestic needs, a desire was expressed to increase the school gardning to the greatest extent possible. Among speakers urging the establishment of gardening departments in school systems now without them was Miss Katharine Paul, secretary of the National Flower and Fruit guild, New York, and Wallace F. Mason, principal of the Normal school, Keene, N. H.

The superintendency division of the association discussed better methods of teaching the English language and a campaign against "slang" phrases.

The afternoon session of the conferences on Normal schools took up the problem of teacher training with P. H. Claxton, United States commissioner of education of Washington, as one of the principal speakers.

OPPOSITION NOW IS DISAPPEARING

To Wilson's Request For More Authority in Emergency

LACONIA CASE DID IT

Michigan Republican Delegation Decides to Back the President in Every Way

Washington, D. C., Feb. 28.—Opposition in congress to granting President Wilson authority to protect American rights and lives on the sea began melting today and administration leaders confidently predicted action within another 24 hours.

There were indications that many of the Republicans of the senate who though favoring the steps proposed, insist that congress should be called in extra session, would vote for the measure requested by the President when the roll was called. The chief, if not the only reason, for uncertainty was found in the attitude of Senator LaFollette, who has given indications of preparing for a single handed filibuster in the closing hours of the session.

Details of the destruction of the Cunard liner Laconia, published in the morning papers and telling of the sufferings and death of an American mother and daughter among the passengers had its effect. Members of the house and senate whose communications had come largely from pacificists, began receiving telegrams from their constituents calling for action by the government.

The house foreign affairs committee early in the day reported out the Flood bill authorizing the President to arm American ships, with amendments eliminating the provision for the use of "other instrumentalities," and adding a prohibition against the insurance of munitions ships by the government war risk bureau. A special rule to expedite passage of the measure was introduced by Chairman Flood of the foreign affairs committee, who said he probably will press it tomorrow. It would provide for a vote not later than 4 o'clock p. m.

The administration plan is to have the senate substitute for the house measure the bill reported by the senate committee and based upon a memorandum prepared by the President. In the form of a conference report the leaders anticipate no difficulty in having the house pass promptly the substitute.

Former Secretary Bryan appeared at the capital tonight while the house was debating the District of Columbia prohibition bill. It developed, however, that he had not come to support the efforts of the pacifist group and in a general way endorsed President Wilson's address to congress.

Another aggravating incident was added to the situation today by the receipt of word from Germany that four American consuls were being held there because a German consul on his way from the United States to Ecuador had been delayed in Cuba. A statement of the facts with a request for immediate release of the Americans was cabled tonight.

Announcement was made at the state department that instructions had been sent to Ambassador Elkus, at Constantinople to report immediately whether Turkey would guarantee, not only for herself but for her allies, the safety of the American cruiser Des Moines and the naval collier Caesar in taking relief supplies into Syria and bringing out the 1,000 or so marooned Americans there. Ambassador Elkus, having sent a rather ambiguous promise from the Turkish authorities was told to say that unless definite and specific guarantees were received from Turkey binding all the Central powers the two vessels would not be allowed to proceed.

The veering of opinion at the capitol in favor of the armed neutrality bill was apparent today. The first concrete indication came at a meeting of the Michigan Republican delegation in congress, called by Senator William Alden Smith. The delegation agreed to support the bill desired by the President not to oppose defense measures or try to force an extra session; and to stand squarely behind the President in the emergency.

A minority report signed by six members of the foreign affairs committee and filed with the house tonight declared the proposed arming of ships carrying ammunition to belligerents would be "unneutral" and "an act of war."

Reed Bill Passes House.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 28.—Prohibition champions won their fight in the house tonight for the senate bill abolishing saloons in the District of Columbia after November 1. The measure passed by a vote of 273 to 137 and was sent to the President, who is expected to sign it.

OPPOSE WICKS FOOD BILL

Producing and Selling Interests Unite In Protest Against Measure.

Albany, Feb. 28.—Representatives of virtually all of the food producing and selling interests which are sought to be regulated by the Wicks foods and market bill appeared in opposition to the measure at the hearing today before the joint agricultural committee of the legislature. Advocates of the legislation included George W. Perkins who helped to draft it, and representatives of the state conference of mayors.

The opponents generally were agreed that the present situation needed some remedy but each was emphatic that his own branch did not require supervision. All were united that the Wicks bill was too broad in its provisions and would prove too expensive to administer.

Mr. Perkins admitted that the measure was not perfect. He said, however, it represented the best thought that could be obtained on the subject and was a constructive step in the right direction.

The hearing was held primarily to hear objections. At its conclusion Chairman Wicks announced another hearing would be held on March 20 and that in the meantime the bill would be amended to meet some of the suggestions made today.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

New York Markets.

New York, Feb. 28.—Restraints imposed upon speculaton by reason of the international crisis became increasingly effective today, special stocks, particularly munitions and equipments showing losses of three to almost ten points. Selling of these stocks was suggestive of liquidation on the part of timid or discouraged holders.

At no time did the market manifest more than a slight degree of steadiness. Lowest prices were made in the final hour accompanied by rumors that German submarines had been seen in Cuban waters.

Bethlehem Steel issues registered the greatest losses, the old stock falling nine points to 120, the new shares seven to 105¾ and "rights" to the new stock declining 7½ to six.

Other noteworthy reversals included New York Airbrake, Industrial Alcohol, General Motors, Gulf States Steel, Atlantic Gulf & West Indies, Mexican Patroleum, Texas company and American Smelting at gross declines of two to five points.

U. S. Steel yielded less than any of the popular issues, closing at a nominal net decline compared with one to two points for related shares.

U. S. Bonds unchanged.

SENATOR MARTINE HAS GIVEN HIS VALEDICTORY

FELLOW LEGISLATORS SPEAK WORDS OF FOND FAREWELL

Washington, D. C., Feb. 28.—Legislative and international problems were laid aside today by the senate for a time to listen to a valedictory address by Senator Martine of New Jersey, who retires March 4 after six years' service. The Senator paid his respects to political opponents and answered criticisms that he did not always vote with his party by declaring that he had always voted his convictions.

"It has been said in published statements that I was a sheer accident, a joke, and mountebank, a buffoon and a disgrace to this body," he shouted, striding up and down the center aisle. "But no man ever said I was a moral coward, a pretender; that is my answer to these villainous and cowardly attacks."

Senator Martine said he believed in direct elections of senators, had sought to establish such procedure and now bowed to the people's fiat at such an election. He addde that he had found the senate wonderfully human and knew of "no place so well calculated to take out a man's egotism."

Senators Lodge and Kenyon replied, assuring the New Jersey Senator that he would leave with the well wishes and affectionate regard of all members.

"Every man of this body feels a personal loss in the departure of the Senator from New Jersey," said Senator Kenyon. "The most needful thing in public life today is courage—sometimes, I think, the rarest. He has it in abundance. No one ever saw him flinch in performance of a public duty. Hypocrisy never had a place in his soul."

Thanks to H. B. Gildersleeve, Our Leading Druggist, Who Brought It Here

Probably no branch of science has made such wonderful strides and changes during the past century as have been made in the practice of medicine. The science of mental healing every year claiming its multitude of new converts; the proverbial ounce of prevention is practiced in every branch of medicine and healing art; laws have been enacted to prevent the sale of habit-forming drugs; a nation wide "health insurance is considered and less medicines are used in the cure of disease than at any time in our history. But such an old and standard remedial agent as cod liver oil still finds its place in the practice of modern medicine.

Everyone knows the objection, however, to the use of this nauseating remedy. So extremely disagreeable is the taste and smell of cod liver oil that many people have actually been unable to take a single dose of it. Many others have made heroic efforts to take the medicine, but have been obliged to abandon it after struggling with the horrible stuff for a few days.

The consequence is that thousands have drifted into incurable diseases who might have been saved had it been possible to administer this patent medicine. Enough people have been able to assimilate cod liver oil to prove to the medical profession and the world at large its intrinsic value. Such patients as were blessed with unusually strong stomachs derived benefit from cod liver oil. Why, then, could not a form of it be devised, to be administered to patients whose digestive organs had been weakened by disease.

This is exactly what scientists and chemists have been aiming at for years, and this is exactly what was accomplished by two prominent French chemists. Some years ago their secret was brought to America, and our local druggist, Mr. Gildersleeve, succeeded in connecting himself with the prominent firm of Boston chemists who placed this new preparation on the market.

By a peculiar process the liver of the cod is treated in such a manner that there is obtained an extract or cod liver peptonate which contains all the curative properties that have made cod liver oil famous. The horrible smelling nauseating oil that has always been a part of this remedy is left entirely behind.

These cod liver peptones are given in Vinol, which Mr. Gildersleeve is offering to his customers. To this is added the blood making, strengthening qualities of tonic iron, manganese peptones and glycerophosphates, which makes Vinol supreme in its field to build up strength for all run-down conditions, after sickness, for feeble old people, delicate children, and which also makes it such a grand constitutional remedy for chronic cough, colds and bronchitis.

Mr. Gildersleeve will be glad to tell any of his customers the good that is being done by finding a pleasant way to administer what has always been considered a valuable but much dreaded medicine,—to say nothing of having been made more efficient. Advt.

BRITISH ADVANCE NEARING BAPAUME

IMPORTANT TOWN OF GOMMECOURT FALLS INTO THEIR HANDS

On both sides of the Ancre river in France the British forces continue to make progress. North of the stream the important village of Gommecourt and the village of Puisieux-au-Mont and trench systems near them have been captured, while south of the river the forces which previously had taken Ligny pushed eastward and occupied Thilloy, about a mile southwest of Bapaume, and a trench at Sailly-Saillisel.

The capture of Gommecourt was followed by the driving of the British line a thousand yards northeast of that place. Whether the Germans offered resistance on any of the sectors is not stated by the British official communication.

On the remainder of the fronts in France and Belgium minor attacks and artillery duels continue. Near Coery, Arras and Lens successful raids were carried out by the British and a German raid northeast of Armentieres was repulsed.

Comparative quiet prevails in Russia and Galicia. Along the northwestern frontier of Rumania, in the Jacobeni-Kimpolung sector, the Teutons have captured several hill positions from the Russians and taken more than 1,300 men prisoner. Petrograd, in admitting the loss of the positions, says a counter attack gave the Russians possession of an effective position.

On the Tigris the English are following up the Turks recently driven out of Kut-el-Amara. The latest British official communication says King George's men on Monday were engaging the Ottoman troops from three sides 30 miles northwest of Kut-el-Amara and that the Turks in their flight had abandoned quantities of arms, ammunition and other war stores and thrown guns, including four howitzers, into the Tigris.

For the first time since the commencement of Germany's intensified submarine campaign the last 24 hours have brought no reports from London of vessels having been sent to the bottom by underwater boats or mines.

With the Fingers! Says Corns Lift Out Without Any Pain

Sore corns, hard corns, soft corns or any kind of a corn can shortly be lifted right out with the fingers if you will apply directly upon the corn a few drops of freezone, says a Cincinnati authority.

It is claimed that at small cost one can get a quarter of an ounce of freezone at any drug store, which is sufficient to rid one's feet of every corn or callus without pain or soreness or the danger of infection.

This new drug is an ether compound, and while sticky, dries the moment it is applied and does not inflame or even irritate the surrounding tissue.

This announcement will interest many women here, for it is said that the present high-heel footwear is putting corns on practically every woman's foot.

Seven Die in Motor Accident.

Lima, Ohio, Feb. 28. — Five dead and 12 injured, at least two of whom will die, was the toll of an automobile accident here tonight. Twenty-two homeward bound employes of the Ohio Steel foundry were hurled through the air and beneath train wheels when a Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton freight car struck the automobile bus.

Peter Daley, driver of the bus, was arrested on order of Coroner Hay.

The identified dead are:
Jerry O'Connor, foreman.
Tom O'Connor, his brother.
Pete Valenska, moulder

Four other bodies so badly crushed that identification is almost impossible.

Of the 12 men in the hospital, two cannot live, it is said.

Daley, who was the only man in the bus to escape with slight injuries, was unable to explain the accident.

Another Prohibition Victory.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 28.—Conferees on the post office appropriation bill late tonight agreed upon a report, thus virtually assuring passage of the Reed "bone dry" amendment barring the shipment of liquor into prohibition states.

Here's One of the Ways Malicious Lies were Circulated about CAMEL Cigarettes

In an effort to injure the wonderful sale of CAMEL cigarettes, many unprincipled schemes have been resorted to. The following is one of many ways such lies have been put into circulation.

An individual liar would approach a group of men, produce a newspaper, published in a distant city, and apparently become interested in reading. Suddenly he would exclaim, "What do you think of this?" He would then pretend to read an article about CAMEL cigarettes. In reality, the paper contained no such statement. The individual would at once walk away, carrying the paper with him. A newspaper from a distant city was always used in an effort to cover the tracks of the liar.

Would anyone voluntarily do this kind of unprincipled work? They must have been paid by someone to do it, and all of them should be exposed. An honest man will not knowingly work under the direction of a crooked superior, nor will an honest superior knowingly tolerate a crooked employee. However, some salesmen have told the trade that they had in their possession a newspaper containing a damaging article about CAMEL cigarettes. This was a malicious falsehood, as they had no such newspaper, and when asked to produce it, they were unable to do so.

CAMEL cigarettes are pure and delightful and the most popular cigarettes ever sold at any price. Cigarette smokers will not, for any length of time, permit malicious falsehoods to prejudice them against CAMELS.

GORGEOUS HISTORICAL PAGEANT.

Miss Seager Speaks to Residents of Delhi on Proposed Pageant in 1919.

Delhi, Feb. 28. — Miss Margaret Seager of Massachusetts, the pageant master, who put on the pageant at the Moore family reunion at Roxbury in September, 1915, was here yesterday and spoke to the people in reference to a proposed pageant here in 1919, commemorating the founding of the Delaware academy and the incorporating of the village of Delhi. She gave her views as to what episodes during the last century locally here it would be well to make prominent.

The proposition is to hold the celebration for three days on the academy campus and the financial part of the undertaking would involve the expenditure of several thousand dollars, which it is thought could be met by the receipts from the entertainments The matter is in a formative state and a committee has it in charge.

This is the name of a young Chinaman, who was educated in this country and who delivered a lecture in the opera house last evening in the regular lecture course. His subject was, "China, Its Past, Present and Future." His address was very interesting and instructive and pleased the audience more than any number in the course that has preceded it. The next and last number in the series is an entertainment March 15 by Rufus E. King, subject not announced.

Unless a much larger audience attends the final number there will surely be a large deficit for the committee to meet.

Doctors Stand Amazed at Power of Bon-Opto to Make Weak Eyes Strong---According to Dr. Lewis

Guaranteed to Strengthen Eyesight 50% In One Week's Time in Many Instances

A Free Prescription You Can Have Filled and Use at Home

Philadelphia, Pa. Victims of eye strain and other eye weaknesses, and those who wear glasses, will be glad to know that according to Dr. Lewis there is real hope and help for them. Many whose eyes were failing say they have had their eyes restored by this remarkable prescription and many who once wore glasses say they have thrown them away. One man says, after using it: "I was almost blind. Could not see to read at all. Now I can read everything without my glasses and my eyes do not hurt any more. At night they would pain dreadfully. Now they feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me.' A lady who used it says: "The atmosphere seemed hazy with or without glasses, but after using this prescription for 15 days everything seems clear. I can read even fine print without glasses." Another who used it says: "I was bothered with eye strain caused by overworked, tired eyes which induced fierce headaches. I have worn glasses for several years both for distance and work, and without them I could not read my own name on an envelope or the typewriting on the machine before me. I can do both now and have discarded my long distance glasses altogether. I can count the fluttering leaves on the trees across the street now, which for several years have looked like a dim green blur to me. I cannot express my joy at what it has done for me."

It is believed that thousands who wear glasses can now discard them in a reasonable time and multitudes more will be able to strengthen their eyes so as to be spared the trouble and expense of ever getting glasses. Eye troubles of many descriptions may be wonderfully benefited by the use of this prescription. Go to any active drug store and get a bottle of Bon-Opto tablets. Drop one Bon-Opto tablet in a fourth of a glass of water and let it dissolve. With this liquid bathe the eyes two to four times daily. You should notice your eyes clear up perceptibly right from the start and inflammation and redness will quickly disappear. If your eyes bother you even a little it is your duty to take steps to save them now before it is too late. Many hopelessly blind might have saved their sight if they had cared for their eyes in time.

Note: Another prominent Physician to whom the above article was submitted, said: "Yes, the Bon-Opto prescription is truly a wonderful eye remedy. Its constituent ingredients are well known to eminent eye specialists and widely prescribed by them. I have used it very successfully in my own practice on patients whose eyes were strained through overwork or misfit glasses. I can highly recommend it in case of weak, watery, aching, smarting, itching, burning eyes, red lids, blurred vision or for eyes inflamed from exposure to smoke, sun, dust or wind. It is one of the very few preparations I feel should be kept on hand for regular use in almost every family." Bon-Opto, referred to above, is not a patent medicine or a secret remedy. It is an ethical preparation, the formula being printed on the package. The manufacturers guarantee it to strengthen eyesight 50 per cent in one week's time in many instances or refund the money. It can be obtained from any good druggist and is sold in this city by Albert Hutson, Inc

PRESIDENT FIRES VOLLEY.

President Wilson, evidently in possession of much information not disclosed even to the lawmakers of the nation, takes a shot at the hesitating, procrastinating and obstructing policies of congress and through the medium of the Associated Press this morning fires a volley into the camp of the peace advocates, who, unmindful of the certain trend of events for months, have been parleying over confirming power which no previous congress has hesitated to give the nation's chief executive in time of need.

The disclosure that immediately upon the announcement of the submarine campaign Germany set in motion a plot to involve Mexico in the war with us provided the United States entered the world war with hopes to enlist Japan also, should be sufficient to arouse the nation as in days of old. Credence will be given the suspicion aroused from the fact that within the week intelligence of the arrival in Mexico of a munitions plant with Japanese men to operate the same has been received in the United States.

The time has now arrived when the United States should inform the world as to its attitude—the sooner the better. In the days of savagery nothing which was thought would make for victory was barred. Combatants and non-combatants were slaughtered and frightfulness abounded. With the advancement of civilization methods of conducting warfare were modified and until recently the lives of non-combatants whether enemy or neutral, men, women or children, ashore or afloat, have been considered inviolable.

For this principle America has in the past stood resolute and its citizens throughout all the years have been ready to defend this principle at any sacrifice. The question must quickly be answered by the American nation—and upon the answer very likely will depend the future of republics upon this old earth. If the answer be not firm and emphatic then it is within the probabilities that ere long we shall see monarchs of iron nerve dominating the sea and the land and all the sacrifices of our forefathers will have been in vain—vain because men in America have been displaced by a degenerate biped masquerading in trousers but lacking both courage and backbone.

INTIMATIONS OF SPRING.

Spring by the almanac—so far as mere months are concerned—made its debut this morning, albeit to one who aspires astronomically to be correct it is still no less than twenty days away. In that interval the orb of day will have completed the pilgrimage which brings him to the constellation of the Ram, and, as not again in a six-month, days and nights will be equal length in every spot from pole to pole. But before any such condition comes about there is still a season of winter weather to face, and probably there are none who will forget that in their own life history, or that of the oldest teller of weather tales about the cracker barrel, there never has been a March without cold weather or that the heaviest snows of the last sixty years or more have always come later than the first of March. There is, therefore, reason to believe that winter's end is as yet afar.

But while we wait with such patience as we may, note may at least be taken of the fact that if spring is not with us, there are everywhere intimations that his coming is at hand. In the cellar the roots and tubers of flowers and vegetables have lain quiet during the past few months and there has been nothing to indicate in outward seeming that life has been in them. What is there now, while the chill winds still are about, and the earth is deep-frozen, which stirs with prophecy of spring, so that blades begin to shoot and bulbs to swell and sprouting leaves and stems to show themselves even in the darkness of bin and cave? What is there out-of-doors which makes the ends of cherry branches swell and of willows whiten a little, when in weather no colder and beneath suns scarcely less persistent they were lately so seeming dull and dead?

Two months ago the solitary crow which had ventured a year-long northern sojourn, made a noiseless flight across the morning sky, or flew silently to his dark aerie in the pines when night came on. But these days, whether it be spring or not, he wheels away on his matin flight, accompanied by bursts of raucous song. The sparrows, too, were in a little earlier day content to take such a hardly-won provend as came their way almost in solemn stillness; but today they flock by hundreds at night in the dusk of evergreens and fill the blue bowl of the sky with their overflowing clamor. And now and then, coming from no one knows where, there is a stray robin, or a jay which furtively examines tree and bush and the corners of fences with a speculative eye as of one who thinks of buying some real estate or anyhow of leasing for the summer. The birds may be merely left-overs from the autumn hegira or they may be avant couriers of the army of the south, but whatever they are, their inquisitive presence hints that spring is coming.

There are of course, many ancient sayings as to the weather significance of the last days of February and of the first ones of March. If the lamblike going out of February has anything to do with climate, then according to the saw, it will go forth like a lion. But whatever the ancient sayings are which have been proved and disproved so many times, at least this one assertion can safely be made—that spring for all the days of dalliance and turning backward, is afoot; that nature every where hears its footsteps, that grass and shrubs and tree and all living things take note of its coming, and that the time is not far distant when this northern world and all of us will step joyously over the boundary which separates the gentle time from the dark month shut in by prison bars and frosty barriers of a time which we call winter.

COMMENTS OF THE PRESS

An Actual Food Danger.

The president of the Bangor and Aroostook Railroad company declares that Maine farmers "have had their 'heads turned by the tremendous prices now being paid for potatoes, and I would not be at all surprised if some of them in the scramble to get the $9 a barrel now offered sold out their last bushel and had none left for this year's planting." Fears to the same effect are expressed regarding Long Island potatoe growers. Here seems to be a real danger. If insufficient seed stock be retained, land which ought to be devoted to growing potatoes this year will have to be planted to other crops or left idle. One anomaly of the present situation is to be found in the fact that oranges are now cheaper in Maine than potatoes. In Bangor, for example, a peck of potatoes is worth about 80 cents, while a peck of good oranges can be bought for 50 cents and a first-class article at 65 cents. The thing for sensible people throughout the country to do is to stop buying potatoes. We shall all be just as well off when that decision has been put into effect, and the result on prices is sure.—[Springfield Republican.

Germany's Censorship.

We may discount somewhat the statement, in the interesting account of the German censorship which comes by way of Berne, that "the German government did not awake until long after the beginning of the war to the desirability of making a favorable impression on public opinion in neutral countries." That would be strange indeed for a government in which the Bismarck tradition is still so strong, and the case really is that in the year before the war elaborate plans were made by an association of business men and officials of the government for using the foreign press in Germany's interest. Germany has constantly complained of being misunderstood because of its isolation, but as a matter of fact it has at all times been able to communicate freely enough with the neutral world, and at no time has it spared effort to tell neutrals what they ought to think. Why, then, have these efforts failed?—[Springfield Republican.

Too Much for the Lawyer.

At a trial in Baltimore a youthful physician was summoned as a witness, and naturally in the cross-examination a lawyer seized the occasion to be sarcastic.

"Are you," demanded the lawyer, "entirely familiar with the symptoms of concussion of the brain?"

The young physician replied, "Yes, sir, I am."

Then the smart lawyer put a hypothetical case before the doctor in this way:

"If my learned friend, Mr. Reid, and myself should bang our heads together, would we get concussion of the brain?"

The young physician calmly replied, "Mr. Reid might."—[Exchange.

"Starving?" Well, Hardly.

These accounts of starving women raiding small groceries and pushcarts, where they throw kerosene oil on the foodstuffs, set fire to the vegetable stands and overturn and strew about the street packages and bags of cereals, flour, bake goods, etc., are very fishy indeed. If they were starving, they might seize the food and take it home for themselves and their children. They would never destroy it. If they would, they are not objects of pity. If the I. W. W. agitators aren't more to blame for the "food riots" in some of the larger cities than is the scarcity of food, then human nature has changed mightily in the last few days.—[Utica Observer.

His Temperature.

A Scottish doctor who was attending a laird had instructed the butler of the house in the art of taking and recording his master's temperature with a thermometer. On paying his usual morning call, he was met by the butler, to whom he said:

"Well, John, I hope the laird's temperature is not any higher today?"

The man looked puzzled for a minute and then replied:

"Weel, I was just wonderin' that mysel'. Ye see, he deed at twal o'clock." — [Our Dumb Animals

DEFENDANT WARRIN SCORES

EVIDENCE OFFERED TENDING TO CONFIRM HIS ALLEGATIONS.

More Than a Score of Witnesses for Defendant Still to Testify—Gorham Recovers in Suit Against Cooperstown Firm.

Cooperstown, Feb. 28. — Interest locally in the suit for libel and slander instituted by Victoria Lemoine against Samuel Warrin continues unabated, the throng at the court house where the case is being heard taxing the capacity of the court room. More than a score of witnesses were examined but nothing of a sensational nature was brought out. The trial is dragging somewhat, due it is believed to the earnest efforts put forth by the attorneys for both sides to unearth every scintilla of evidence that might help their respective interests.

The plaintiff finished about noon and after lunch Attorney James J. Byard opened the case for the defendant and during the afternoon some nine witnesses were sworn in his behalf. While the testimony was not of a startling character points were brought out which seem to sustain the allegations of the defendant. Various arguments which became spirited at times furnished the excitement of the afternoon when the testimony of witnesses lagged. The cross examination of certain witnesses resulted in their becoming mixed in their testimony. The case will, it is believed, continue throughout Thursday at least, it being understood that the defendant has about 20 additional witnesses to testify.

H. E. Gorham Recovers.

As a result of Judge McCann's order yesterday for an extra panel of trial jurors there were fully 15 additional trial jurors on hand this morning before him. The drawing of a jury to try the case of Howard E. Gorham of Oneonta against the International Milk Products company was completed during the morning. The plaintiff sued to recover for work, labor and services in repairing a boiler. The defendant alleged or set up in defence that the work was not satisfactorily done. Considerable time was occupied in the examination of witnesses and the plaintiff apparently had a strong case. The judge in charging the jury dwelt principally upon the facts in the case. The jury deliberated for three hours and then returned a verdict for the full amount claimed which with interest independent of costs amounted to $392.50.

There being few additional cases ready for trial, and in at least two of them Attorney Byard who is now engaged in the trial of Lemoine-Warrin case being interested, Judge McCann tonight adjourned his court without date and departed for his home at Elmira.

Days of Revelation!

Blowy, Blustery March is the month of Revelations. It forces things to a Show Down, or a Show Up. It's Howling Winds drive the Snow away and its Thaws uncover the ground and bring the first signs of Spring.

March Winds show up Things as They Are, especially when They are Climbing into Street Cars. Sometimes they blow Dust into Men's Eyes, which shows that Nature understands the Law of Compensation.

March Weather is capricious, a tantalizing mixture of Winter and Spring, but every day brings us One Step nearer Glorious Summer no matter how consistently Winter Lingers in the lap of Spring.

March comes in like a Lion and Goes out like a Lamb. Or it reverses the order. It is never a Consistent Performer except that it Forever Bridges the gap between Winter and Summer.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS CONVENE

Inspiring Addresses to Representatives of Thirty-third District, Domain of New York.

Some forty members of the Knights of Pythias from the lodges comprising the thirty-third district, domain of New York, located at Cobleskill, Sidney, Hobart, Cherry Valley and Oneonta, met in conference last evening as the guests of Banner lodge, No. 282, of Oneonta, and most inspiring addresses were given by delegates on the work of the organization.

Most of the delegates arrived in the city on the early evening trains and proceeded at once to the lodge rooms of the order where secret sessions were opened, with Deputy Grand Chancellor Harry Greenwald of Cobleskill presiding. Brief remarks, as to the achievements of the order were made by the chancellor commander of each lodge.

John A. R. Capps, Grand Chancellor Knights of Pythias.

R. W. France, prelate of Sidney lodge, Sidney, then gave an address on "Pythian Law," after which C. B. Jones of Cobleskill, trustee of the Pythian Home at Ogdensburg, recounted the aims and achievements at the fraternal home, inspiring all present to work with renewed zeal for the good of the order.

Edward A. Gifford, deputy attorney general, supreme representative of Athens, N. Y., next spoke on "The Pythian Order," after which the guest of honor, John A. R. Capps, grand chancellor, delivered a masterful oration on "Pythian Fraternalism,"—an appeal that was inspiring in the extreme.

At the conclusion of the secret gathering the entire party adjourned to The Oneonta, where an elaborate course dinner was served by the hotel management in their usual faultless style. After coffee and cigars informal and brief addresses were made by several of the visiting brothers.

A MESSAGE TO GARCIA.

Taken from Noted Essay By Elbert Hubbard at Strand Theatre Today.

After the battleship Main is blown up in Havana harbor, President McKinley decides to aid Cuba in her battle to throw off the Spanish yoke. He seeks a messenger to carry the news to Garcia, the insurgent leader, the location of whose ragged patriot army is unknown. Lieutenant Rowan is selected to find Garcia and deliver the message. Unquestioning, he starts upon his dangerous mission.

Spanish spies learn of the message to Garcia and attempt to prevent its delivery. Then follows an exciting story of adventure and intrigue, telling how Rowan, aided by a beautiful Cuban girl, Dolores, escapes the pitfalls and traps set by the wily Spaniards, finally reaching the jungle headquarters of the Cuban leader and delivering his fateful message. Beautiful, exterior scenes taken in Cuba.

TWO PROFITABLE ADDRESSES.

Baptist Women Home Mission Workers Confer.

Yesterday afternoon the Home Mission workers of the Baptist churches of the city and environs met at the First Baptist parlors in this city to celebrate the fortieth anniversary of the American Baptist Women's Home Mission society and there was a good attendance. Mrs. L. K. Barnes of New York city, who has charge of the Eastern New York district, gave an interesting report of the work in her district and of the aims. She reported that the women of the district have raised $35,000 in a short time to further the work.

An able address, followed by Miss Nannie Burroughs head of the training school at Washington, D. C., conducted by and for the colored people of the country. She spoke eloquently of the work and what is being accomplished for her race. She emphasized the feature of aiding them to help themselves and said much is being accomplished in elevating their standards of living and their personal habits. It was keenly enjoyed by all. Later the young ladies of the First Baptist society served a luncheon, which also was enjoyed. Mrs. E. J. Farley presided at the session. The church was decorated with patriotic colors.

ONEONTA BUILDING AND LOAN.

Pays Over Thirty-Thousand Dollars Matured Stock Dividends.

The management of the Oneonta Building and Loan association is felicitating itself and its stockholders on the fact that today it will mature its senior series of stock, and that in the course of the day it will have handed over to the stockholders in return for their stock no less than $30,800 in money, representing the full value on 154 shares of stock. This very substantial sum has been largely accumulated from small monthly payments, compounded at six per cent per annum, compounded at six per cent interest.

The association has quietly disbursed similar amounts every six months for years past and will no doubt continue the process with increased results for many years in the future. As a means of inculcating lessons of thrift, the Building and Loan has perhaps no equal.

Following this a program was given, which included readings, recitations, music and remarks from various persons, including the commander, past commanders, and other retired officers, together with a few members. The company disbanded at an early hour with this expression: "Hurrah for W. B. A. O. T. M. Embroidery club, who can do so well."

"ONE GIRL'S EXPERIENCE."

Truthful Arraignment of Monstrous Evil at Oneonta Theatre Today.

"One's Girl's Experience," with no children permitted to attend, will be the offering at the theatre today, matinee and evening. The play tells just what the title implies—a story of a young girl being baited for the fearful trap social conditions invite.

It is spoken of as a plain forceful and truthful arraignment of a monstrous evil. In the larger cities societies are being formed to combat the evil this play describes. Men and women of wealth and affluence are giving their time and money to assist in the great work being done.

The Ring Shop

Some jewelers carry rings merely because they are jewelry. We carry them in rich profusion because they are beautiful and a true adornment.

This store is known to many as the ring shop, because those who are especially interested in this form of jewelry have found here not only exceptional offerings in rings, but an intelligent interest to match theirs.

If you love rings, come and see ours. If you don't, come and see them and you will love them

In our search for rings which we considered a true expression of this form of the jewelers' art, and which, at the same time, could be sold at prices to fit any purse, we hit upon the W. W. rings, and ceased our search, satisfied that nothing better could be found. They are splendidly designed—gem-set, all of them—and the settings are guaranteed. If one is lost or cracked, it will be replaced. They may be had for $3, $4, $5, $7—or more, if you prefer.

EMERY POTTLE IN FRANCE

Graduate of Oneonta Normal School Sings of Adventure in Ambulance Corps.

Many in Oneonta, and certainly the older members of the Normal faculty, will recall Emery Pottle, a former student and a graduate of that institution who later made a mark for himself in the fields of literature. Mr. Pottle, after the European war broke out, was in France connected with the ambulance corps, where he had many thrilling experiences. In the New York Tribune of Tuesday is a poem in the now familiar "vers libre" style, which will doubtless interest many friends here. The poem is entitled "The Daffodils," and runs as follows:

Today a year ago—
I found the record of it this morning
On a dirty scrap of paper fallen from a book—
There was a call for an ambulance
At Mont Richard.
I was the "next cut," so they sent me,
Me and my old flivver, 162.
Mont Richard is a god-forsaken chateau
Behind a thicket of horrible pine trees,
A post de secours
In full view of the German trenches:
"Not a hygenic resort," the soldiers say.
The sky was gray, the whole world was gray,
Except the mud, which was yellow ooze.
A few 77c were dropping informally in for tea,
When I passed the battered grille and began to climb the gouged road
Which winds through that sodden, desolate garden.
A territorial with sore, red eyes, tunic, breeches, and boots clay-caked,
Came out and advised me to wait behind some sort of shelter
Till ces ordures began to let up.
So I left the ambulance and went toward the ruin of a pavilion—
Just the angle of an ivied wall
Still standing deep in green.
And then—
O I forgot the War,
And dying men,
And the snarling 77s,
And the godless misery of Lorraine!
There in the course winter-grass,
There right at my feet,
Was Sun—Spring—Home—
A clump of the yellowest blossomed daffodils!
I think I saw them through tears,
Those flowers I love best,
Down on my knees touching their sunny heads
With home-sick hands.
"Dis l'Americain—si tu aimes ca—"
My soldier was at my elbow—
"Attends—j'vais te faire une 'tite Chose."
Then somewhere he discovered a broken pot,
And with his bayonet dug up the daffodils,
Earthed them and put them in my arms.
"Tiens ca: Moi aussi j'aime les fleurs, mon pote!
Sale guerr, hein?"
My blesse died before I got him to the hospital
Seven miles off.
Poor chap!
But the blossomed daffodils beside me—
O they were life—
Life and Sun and Spring and Home.

—Emery Pottle.

THE KEETON RECEPTION.

Elaborate Affair In Honor of Sidney Man at The Oneonta Saturday.

Sidney, Feb. 28.—The reception to be held at the Hotel Oneonta, in Oneonta, Saturday evening of this week, given by the male employes of the Kayser factory to their superintendent, James Keeton sr., in honor of his having served in that capacity in Sidney five years, promises to be rather an elaborate affair. Mr. Keeton has rather a straightforward way of doing business and his fairness in dealing with the employes of the factory in the many little matters that arise between employers and employes, has caused the men to give this affair in token of their appreciation at this time. On Saturday afternoon the men will leave Sidney on train 309 to which an extra car will be attached for their convenience. There will be about 100. An elaborate banquet will be served at the hotel during the evening and music by a special orchestra will be in attendance. The entertainment will be interspersed with songs and addresses. The hotel bowling alleys have been engaged for the evening and a contest for the championship of the mill will be played between two seven-men teams.

HEALS RUNNING SORES AND CONQUERS PILES

Also Stops Itching of Eczema in Few Days.

"I feel it is my duty to write you a letter of thanks for your wonderful Peterson's Ointment. I had a running sore on my left leg for one year. I began to use Peterson's Ointment three years ago and now it is healed."—A. C. Gilbrath, 703 Reed street, Erie, Pa.

I'd rather get a letter like that, says Peterson, than have John D. Rockefeller give me a thousand dollars. It does me a lot of good to be able to be of use to my fellow man.

For years I have been selling through druggists a large box of Peterson's Ointment for 25 cents. The healing power of this ointment is marvelous. Eczema goes in a few days. Old sores heal up like magic; piles that other remedies do not seem to even relieve, are speedily conquered. Advt.

Use "Gets-It," Lift Corn Right Off

Shrivels, Loosens—and It's Gone!

"Just like taking the lid off—that's how easy you can lift a corn off your toe after it has been treated with the wonderful discovery, 'Gets-It.'" Hunt the wide world over and you'll find nothing so magic, simple and easy as "Gets-It." You folks who have wrapped your toes in bandages to look like bundles, who have used salves that turned your toes raw and sore, and used plasters that would shift from their place and never "get" the corn, and who have dug and picked at your corns with knives and scissors and perhaps made them bleed—just quit these old and painful ways and try "Gets-It" just once. You put 2 or 3 drops on, and it dries at once. There's nothing to stick. You can put your shoe and stocking right on again. The pain is all gone. Then the corn dies a painless, shriveling death, it loosens from your toe, and off it comes. "Gets-It" is the biggest selling corn remedy in the world today. There's none other as good.

"Gets-It" is sold by druggists everywhere, 25c a bottle, or sen. on receipt of price by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

Sold in Oneonta and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by E. E. Scatchard, Dickson Bros., H. B. Gildersleeve.

TO RELIEVE CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or head noises go to your druggist and get one ounce of Parmint (double strength), and add to it one-fourth pint of hot water and four ounces of granulated sugar. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucous stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has catarrhal Deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.

HELPFUL HAIR HINTS

Worthy the Attention of Everyone Who Would Avoid Dandruff, Itching Scalp, Gray Hairs and Baldness.

"What will stop my hair coming out?" Reply: Parisian sage is the best remedy for hair and scalp trouble; said to prevent baldness, grayness and dandruff.

The great war has not interfered with the sales of Parisian Sage—one of the most helpful and invigorating hair treatments known—as it is made in this country from the original formula.

"Before going to bed, I always rub a little Parisian Sage into my scalp," says a woman whose luxurious, soft and fluffy hair is greatly admired. This stops itching scalp, keeps the hair from falling out and makes it easy to dress attractively.

Beautiful, soft, glossy, healthy hair for those who use Parisian Sage. You can get a bottle of this inexpensive French hair dressing from H. B. Glidersleeve and druggists everywhere, with guarantee of satisfaction, or money refunded. Advt.

Knocks Obstinate Coughs in a Hurry

A Simple Home-Made Remedy that Gets at the Cause.

Thousands of people normally healthy in every other respect, are annoyed with a persistent hanging-on bronchial cough year after year, disturbing their sleep and making life disagreeable. It's so needless—there's an old home-made remedy that will end such a cough easily and quickly.

Get from any druggist "2½ ounces of Pinex" (50 cents worth), pour it into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Begin taking it at once. Gradually but surely you will notice the phlegm thin out and then disappear altogether, thus ending a cough that you never thought would end. It also promptly loosens a dry or tight cough, stops the troublesome throat tickle, soothes the irritated membranes that line the throat and bronchial tubes, and relief comes almost immediately. A day's use will usually break up an ordinary throat or chest cold, and for bronchitis, croup, whooping cough and bronchial asthma there is nothing better. It tastes pleasant and keeps perfectly.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, combined with guaiacol and is used by millions of people every year for throat and chest colds with splendid results.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded goes with this preparation. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

liquor, which he displayed on his return to Sidney. Soon after he returned home, and after having drank a quantity of the stuff, he showed symptoms of illness. His condition rapidly grew worse and suffered intense agony. Toward the end he became blind, thus indicating that wood alcohol was a part of the mixture which he had imbibed. His illness lasted about one week. An analysis of some of the liquor will be made to see what it contained.

Controversy Over Frozen Pipes.

Another little controversy is on between the village trustees and the Water company. It seems that about ten days ago three residents of Secor street complained that the water main on their street was frozen and that they were unable to obtain any water. They reported the matter to the officials of the Water company and the latter refused to act, stating that there was no contract by which they were compelled to thaw out the pipes. The company has been served with a notice by Village President W. H. Kirby, to whom the matter was taken, to have the pipes in working condition March 1, or the village would attend to them and the Water company would have to stand the expense.

Warehouse Burglarized.

On Monday night the warehouse of Borden & Elliott, dealers in feed and flour, was broken into and entered. Entrance was gained by forcing the lock with a jimmy. The firm are not positive of the amount of their loss, but are sure that at least half a dozen sacks of flour were taken. They have secured no clues to the burglars and offer a reward of $25 for information that will lead to the apprehension of the guilty parties.

Joint Petitions for Paving.

A petition to pave that section of River street south of the O. & W. railroad crossing has been joined to the one recently circulated to have that section of the street paved from Main street to the crossing. The joint petitions will probably be presented to the regular meeting of the board Thursday evening. The petition asks for a concrete road south of the crossing and of brick from Main street to the crossing. An engineer will be immediately called into consultation so as to get an estimate of the costs in order to be able to present the proposition to the voters at the corporation election to be held on March 20, at which time the village officials are elected for the ensuing year.

Franklin, Feb. 28. — The deepest regret is felt in this village and vicinity at the announcement of the death of Emory D. Abel, a life-long resident of this township, which occurred at about 2 o'clock this morning. He was a man of highest integrity, a member for many years and a deacon of the Congregational church, a trustee of the Oulcout Valley cemetery and formerly of the Delaware Literary Institute and had held many town offices. With all the interests of the community and church he was prominently identified; and all who knew him will greatly deplore the death of this loving husband and father, kind friend and neighbor, and devoted Christian.

Mr. Abel suffered a slight shock early last summer. From this he apparently made full recovery, and this morning he was seemingly in good health. At the hour above noted he started to go out of doors. When just outside the house he fell, and when his family, who heard him falling, went to his assistance he was dead. The funeral services will be held on Saturday at an hour later to be announced. His pastor, Rev. A. F. Lindsay, will officiate, and interment will be in the Oulcout Valley cemetery.

The deceased was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Emory F. Abel and was born in Treadwell 68 years ago. He is survived by his wife, formerly Ellen Johnson of Franklin, and by three sons: Arthur Abel of Waverly, Ralph of Toledo, Ohio, and Edwin A. of Franklin. He also leaves two sisters, Mrs. Lucy Spoor of Oneonta and Mrs Henry Wood of Dakota City, Neb. The Misses Emily and Mary Abel of Oneonta are cousins of the deceased. Mr. Abel was a farmer by occupation, but about 15 years ago retired, moving to the village.

The afternoon was spent in playing games and at its close supper was served and all did justice to the good things provided, and aided in demolishing the big birthday cake.

SICK CHILDREN LOVE CASCARETS FOR THE BOWELS

Get a 10-cent box now.

Most of the ills of childhood are caused by a sour, disordered stomach, sluggish liver and constipated bowels. They catch cold easily, become cross, listless, irritable, feverish, restless, tongue coated, don't eat or sleep well and need a gentle cleansing of the bowels—but don't try to force a nauseating dose of oil into the little one's already sick stomach—it is cruel, needless and old-fashioned.

Any child will gladly take Cascarets Candy Cathartic which act gently—never gripe or produce the slightest uneasiness—though cleanse the little one's system, sweeten the stomach and put the liver and bowels in a pure, healthy condition.

Full directions for children and grown-ups in each package.

Mothers can rest easy after giving this gentle, thorough laxative which costs only 10 cents a box at any drug store.

War Department Asks Gardiner to Return Civil War Medal

ASA BIRD GARDINER.

New York, Feb. 28. — The action of the war department in directing Asa Bird Gardiner, former district attorney of New York county, and prominent member of many patriotic societies, to return the medal awarded him for meritorious conduct during the Civil war, has aroused considerable comment here. Gardiner, who is a retired Lieutenant-Colonel of the United States army, was awarded the honor medal by congress forty-five years ago. The action of the war department was based on a report of a board of army officers who examined the records of all persons on the medal of honor roll. It found that Colonel Gardiner was the only officer now on the lists of the regular establishment not entitled to retain his medal. Colonel Gardiner has expressed great indignation and will fight to retain the medal and the honors it carries with it.

Eating an Egg.

Is there any corner of the earth where the homely egg has not found its way? It forms a substantial food to all nations, and it is not curious that different nationalities have different ways of demolishing this estable.

Eating an egg with a spoon would be sacrilege to a Spaniard. He boils his egg just one minute, then breaks the contents into a glass and drinks it as if it were wine. The Italians place their egg in cold water and remove it just as the water boils. Then they break it on a plate and eat it with bread.

English cooking prevails in France in regard to the egg. Three minutes in boiling water is the rule. It is then broken into a glass and mixed together with salt, pepper and butter.—London Mirror.

Madrid's Fearful Climate.

Madrid is afflicted with the most changeable climate of any European capital. The temperature varies from as much as 107 degrees in the summer to as little as 16 degrees in the winter, and at all seasons of the year it indulges in violent fluctuations. It is by no means uncommon in December to wake up with the thermometer registering about 20 degrees and to find it mount to more than 60 degrees by the afternoon. No wonder, therefore, that lung troubles are far more prevalent in Madrid than in Petrograd.—London Chronicle.

GIRLS! DRAW A MOIST CLOTH THROUGH HAIR

Immediate?—Yes! Certain?—that's the joy of it. Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after a Danderine hair cleanse. Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or excessive oil, and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. A delightful surprise awaits those whose hair has been neglected or is scraggy, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair, and lots of it, surely get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and just try it.
